THE OUTFITTER LIFE

Another Season is in the books! I'm sitting by the fire with a whiskey in hand just going over everything. The past 4 seasons have been a great experience. It's a never ending job but each year we've improved our camp and the hunting area, learning how the animals use the trails and where to hunt. It's a lot of hard work but it's something we love. To us it's important that we get the kids out in the wilderness, passing on the things I've learned from my dad, uncles and grandpa. It takes a team to have a smooth running operation and I think we've got one of the best teams out there! Thanks for all your hard work.

THE YUKON

This year I guided some sheep hunts for Mac and Leona Watson. They own and operate 2 great areas in the Yukon(North Curl Outfitters & Kusawa Outfitters). The weather this summer was great and the scenery is always fansastic. I did one river hunt for moose with Yukon Stone in their newly acquired area(previously Cosco's Outfitting). The fall was very warm which kept the moose quiet and in the timber but we still had some decent action and managed to call in a nice bull and kill him 80 yards from the tent! After the Yukon I headed down to southern BC on a goat hunt with a good friend and past client Paul Taylor. It was a fantastic hunt in a beautiful area. We both managed to tag out on some great goats.

SASKATCHEWAN WHITETAIL HUNTS

Deer Season is always a lot of fun and this season was no exception. Unfortunately the hunting was slower than normal with unseasonably warm temperatures. There wasn't much rutting activity and the big boys weren't moving like normal. None the less we still managed to kill some nice bucks. It still surprises me at how big some of the bodies are on these deer, they look like small horses! The good news was we're seeing lots of nice young bucks and good fawn recruitment which is promising for next season. Our clients were great on passing up our younger deer which really helps our herd management. We also got some new trails opened up and are excited to explore and hunt them next year!

SASKATCHEWAN BEAR HUNTS

We were finally able to run our 1st bear season. Jess and the kids came out for a few weeks and helped get camp ready. My dad and Greg were hard at work building our garage and finishing cabin 1 up. The bear hunting was fantastic with some really big boars being taken. Almost all our hunters were bow hunters and everyone managed to tag out. A few of the bears squared 7' and were right around 400 lbs. Our average was right around 250 lbs with lots being over 300 lbs

The weather was great and the bugs were minimal, which makes everything that much more enjoyable. The walleye fishing on the river was good and is a perfect way to spend the day before heading out for the evening hunt. We're looking forward to getting back to camp this spring!
